

Educational Leadership

Educational leaders require a broad range of skills to lead strategically & effectively, motivate and manage teams, and achieve results.

Being a Leader

Lead strategically, with purpose and a clear vision.

Be responsible, self-aware and inclusive.

Show courage and solve problems with creativity.

Working with Others

Build effective relationships, and invest in and empower others.

Be accountable & hold others accountable

Have an open two-way communication channel

Getting Things Done

Plan, delegate and lead effectively to achieve objectives.

Support emerging talent.

Have systems mindset, manage risks, evaluate, and innovate.

Skills for Educational Leaders

Collections | Curated content across key skill areas

Being a Leader

Lead strategically and responsibly to build a shared vision for the future and establish a diverse, inclusive, and equitable educational environment

Working with Others

Lead and empower others, promoting accountability and open communication

Getting Things Done

Manage change and deliver results through planning, delegating, and investing in people.

Learners can use the search function to directly access Clips (individual videos)

Over 3000 courses available on the platform

Example content from leading universities

Courses | Modular courses to build skill at all levels

Stepping Up: Preparing Yourself for Leadership

Queen Mary University of London

Strategic Thinking

Arizona State University

Creativity, Innovation, and Transformation

Pennsylvania State University

Specializations & Professional Certificates | Deeper learning pathways

Coaching Skills for Managers

University of California Davis

Becoming a Strengths Based Leader: Leading Standout® Teams

Automatic Data Processing, Inc. (ADP)

Influencing: Storytelling, Change Management and Governance

University of Colorado Boulder

Guided Projects | Hands on projects guided by an instructor

Data Visualization using Microsoft Excel

Creating a Budget with Microsoft Excel

Create a Project Management Tracker using Microsoft Excel